Monthly Commentary

The markets suffered their worst rout since the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic. There were a few issues weighing down sentiment, including China's ongoing clampdown on corporates, the impact of supply chain disruptions, and gauging how the latest data on inflation will affect monetary policy in the months ahead.

The GBI – Good Governance UCITS (B Share Class) finished the month down 5.56% underperforming the S&P 500 TR index by 0.91%. The inception-to-date return now stands at 4.17% versus 2.93% for the index.

The underperformance for the month can be attributed primarily to stock picking, although sector allocation was also a negative contributor. Every sector, except Energy, ended the month significantly in the red. The fund's zero exposure to the Energy sector, which went up almost 10%, was the month's biggest detractor. The relative performances from the remaining sectors were close to flat. The only, somewhat notable outliers, were an overweight allocation to communication services, which added positively to the fund's relative performance, and an underweight allocation to the financial sector which contributed negatively.

80% of companies in the S&P 500 index were negative in September, while 70 companies suffered a greater than double digit loss in their market value. 8 of the 10 top performing companies came from the oil and gas sector. While few and far between, positive contributors to the fund included Texas Instruments, McDonalds and Kraft Heinz. On the flip side there were some large cap names such as Estee Lauder, Nike and Eli Lilly, which suffered double digit losses.
